ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

3	A shoe having a sole contour which follows a theoretically ideal stability plane as a basic concept, but which deviates
3	outwardly therefrom to provide greater than natural stability.
5	Thickness variations outwardly from the stability plane are
7	disclosed, along with density variations to achieve a similar
3	greater than natural stability.